

Berkman

Center for Internet & Society

(un)Common Knowledge: Legal Education in a Networked World

Thursday, December 7

6 pm

Austin West

Harvard Law School

Cocktail Reception to Follow

Law schools don't just educate new lawyers...

...they house vibrant communities that research, develop, and share legal knowledge. How might law schools take advantage of our increasingly networked environment or use emerging network technologies to foster robust learning communities? Can such communities bridge between the academy and practice?

On the occasion of Harvard Law School's most significant curriculum revision since the 1870s, join law professors, professional educators, practicing attorneys, and technologists to discuss the coming transformation of legal education.

Andy Prozes

Global CEO
LexisNexis

Charles Nesson

William F. Weld Professor of Law
Harvard Law School
Founder and Faculty Co-Director
Berkman Center for Internet & Society

Sandy Geller

Executive Vice-President
Practicing Law Institute

Pat Hobbs

Dean
Seton Hall University School of Law

Stone Wiske

Lecturer on Education
Harvard Graduate School of Education

Ron Staudt

Professor; Associate Vice President for Law, Business and Technology
Chicago-Kent School of Law

To attend, please RSVP to:
kelly.beaty@edelman.com

Cosponsored by LexisNexis and the Harvard Law School Journal of Law & Technology

Berkman Center for Internet & Society

23 Everett Street, 2nd Floor, Cambridge, MA 02138

<http://cyber.law.harvard.edu> • 617-495-7547 • cyber@law.harvard.edu